New Mexico Lottery Authority Chief Operating Officer (COO) The New Mexico Lottery Authority is in search of a highly qualified candidate to fill the position of Chief Operating Officer (COO). This role will involve reporting to and working under the CEO's supervision, with the COO being responsible for overseeing the day-to-day operations of the lottery. As such, the ideal candidate should have extensive experience in lottery operations and business practices. The COO will be required to apply Management Core Values and Expectations in performing daily management activities, directing business operations and activities to achieve the lottery's statutory mission of driving lottery sales, measuring outcomes, and improving processes. Other duties include developing and implementing lottery strategies and processes, ensuring compliance with contractual matters, collaborating with the Chief Financial Officer on budget preparation, and fostering improvements through automation and IT initiatives. To qualify for this position, the ideal candidate should hold a four-year degree in business administration, public administration, or a related field, along with sufficient prior experience in general functions of lottery operations. Additionally, the candidate must demonstrate the ability to perform all executive duties with full authority when the CEO is absent. If you meet the requirements and are excited about the prospect of leading the operations of the New Mexico Lottery Authority, please submit your resume and cover letter to be considered for this role.
